
https://tucson.com/news/local/tucson-youth-show-their-hopes-and-dreams-through-photography/article_9235afde-a45e-11eb-9fa2-972a9c1ee447.html

Tucson youth show their hopes and dreams through photography

Mamta Popat photos, Arizona Daily Star
Apr 23, 2021

Mamta Popat / Arizona Daily Star

Mamta Popat photos, Arizona Daily Star

Above: Museum patrons look at the Pictures of Hope exhibition at the Tucson Museum of Art. The Pictures of Hope nonprofit puts digital cameras from Walgreens in the hands of young people to help them express their hopes and dreams through the power of photography. Right: “I hope we can make the world a better place,” writes Esperanza, 17, to accompany her photo. This year, 15 members of the Boys & Girls Clubs of Tucson each captured a single photo to reflect their hopes and dreams. They are on display at the Tucson Museum of Art through July 8.

Mamta Popat / Arizona Daily Star

Susan Hollis looks at the Pictures of Hope exhibition at the Tucson Museum of Art.

Mamta Popat / Arizona Daily Star

"My hope and dream is Land of the free because of the Brave," writes Fernando, 17, as part of Pictures of Hope at Tucson Museum of Art.

Mamta Popat / Arizona Daily Star

pictures of hope

"My hope is that you can find unconditional love in those puppy dog eyes."

Hayden, age 12

2021 Pictures of Hope. Boys & Girls Clubs of Tucson

Pictures of Hope

pictures of hope

"My hope and dream is Land of the Free because of the Brave."

Fernando, age 12

2021 Pictures of Hope. Boys & Girls Clubs of Tucson

Pictures of Hope

pictures of hope

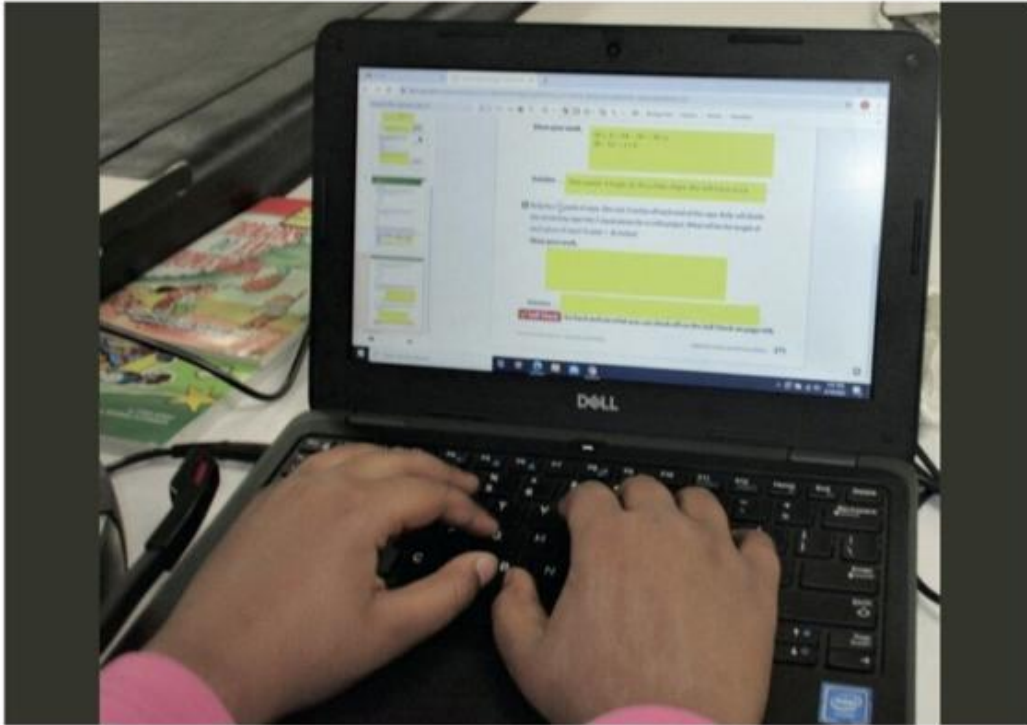

"My hopes and dreams are to be a doctor or a nurse, so I can help people."

Yamilet, age 13

2021 Pictures of Hope. Boys & Girls Clubs of Tucson

Pictures of Hope

pictures of hope

"My dream is that everyone would have an equal opportunity for education."

Roberto, age 11

2021 Pictures of Hope. Boys & Girls Clubs of Tucson

Pictures of Hope

pictures of hope

"My dream is we should be kind to each other because everyone in the world is woven together."

Jose Luis, age 12

2021 Pictures of Hope. Boys & Girls Clubs of Tucson

Pictures of Hope
